

THE CARNEGIE CENTER PRESENTS: CD COLLINS
READING FROM HER NOVEL
AFTERHEAT

Thursday January 12, 5:30 PM

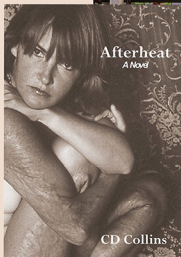

Free and open to the public

The Carnegie Center for Literacy and Learning
Stuart Room
251 West Second Street
Lexington, KY
Phone 859.254.4175
<http://carnegiecenterlex.org>

The event that sparks CD Collins AFTERHEAT is a pipeline explosion.

Reading from her semi-autobiographical novel, CD reveals the dangers of pipelines and the human consequences of their frequent failures.

The reading will be followed by a Q&A and discussion about CD's personal experience with pipelines, the recent victories for pipeline opposition (Dakota Access, Bluegrass Pipeline) and why the fight must continue.

www.cdcollins.com